

X51 Data collection and management

In order to effectively run the squadron some data must be collected on members and their training/squadron activity. This includes:

Country of residence or time zone
Discord alias
Join Date
Leave status
Training attendance logs

This information is kept securely on our server, accessible at the address hq.x51squadron.com. All members have the right to access their own data.

To request an account on the site, or for any enquiries, please message Wazzerbosh.
